Red Cross Goal Set At $4550 For County

"Membership in the Red Cross is assurance that no matter what happens in this uneasy world, you are not alone," J. Cyril Glover, chairman of the 1955 American Red Cross drive stated as the campaign opened Tuesday, March 1, in Hancock County.

"Working with you, serving with you and for you are millions of your neighbors. You join a fellowship dedicated to the relief of human suffering when you join the Red Cross," Glover added. At a meeting Tuesday he announced that the local chapter's goal for the month-long drive would be $4,550, money to be used to continue the organization's vital aid to people in distress.

Assisting chairman Glover are Wilson W. Webre, co-chairman, Miss Udell L. Favre, public information and Mrs. Elizabeth Weston, executive secretary. Solicitors throughout the County are: Bay St. Louis, Mrs. Henry Chapman, Mrs. Andrew Spotoro, Mrs. Arthur Chapman, Mrs. Walter J. Gex, Mrs. Waldo Otis, Mrs. L. J. Kergosien, Mrs. James Bishop, Mrs. John McDonald, Mrs. Shirley Sewell, Mrs. E. P. Larroux, Mrs. J. S. Blanchard, Mrs. John Joyce, Mrs. Horace Kergosien, Mrs. Cyril Glover, Mrs. Warren Traub, Mrs. Nellie Martin, Mrs. Philip Allison, Mrs. Rita Shumski, Mrs. George Seuzeneau, Mrs. Joseph Favre, Mrs. Alvin Ladner, Mrs. Lester Smith and Mrs. Kenneth Pepperdene; Waveland, Mrs. H. A. Thompson, Mrs. Fred Bourgeois, Mrs. Mary Ison, Mrs. Fred Rose, Mrs. Walter Mead, Mrs. C. E. Ripple, Mrs. H. B. Baron, Mrs. George Digby, Mrs. S. Hoggins, Mrs. Ivan J. Bradford and Mrs. Thomas Mallin; Clermont Harbor, Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Weller, Mrs. Wayne Hazlett and Mrs. Ed P. Ortte; overall county: Mrs. T. C. Wickers, Mrs. Ike Frierson, Mrs. Frank Keller and Frank Quintini. Solicitors for the colored division are Leander Benjamin and Reginald Robinson.

Glover stressed the fact that a member's effort and contribution, no matter what its extent, becomes a great meaningful force because it is strengthened and supported by many others who also join and serve.

First Of Hancock County Children Getting Polio Vaccine Due For Their Shots In Less Than 30 Days

RED CROSS DRIVE BEGINS—Mrs. Elizabeth Weston, Miss Udell Favre, City Commissioner Cyril Glover and Wilson Weber are shown as they make plans for the beginning of the Red Cross Fund Drive in Hancock County.

Dr. C. M. Shipp, County health officer, announced this week that the long awaited vaccination against polio, which annually in Spring begins its devastating march across the nation's homeland will begin in the local school about April 1st.

Due to restrictions on the vaccine allotment, only the first and second grade children will be given the shots at first. And only those children who have signed requests from their parents will receive them.

The first shot will be given about the first of April, Dr. Shipp said. This will be followed by the second shot a week later—and the series will be completed about four weeks after that.

"The allotment of vaccine is strictly limited to first and second graders," Dr. Shipp said. He added in a speech this week however, that reports indicated supplies of the vaccine would soon be available through the family physician for children of all ages.

"We have gone through long and expensive tests on animals and human beings in producing and testing the vaccine," Dr. Shipp said. "We have heard that these experiments are even better than expected."

Every county in the state, he said, has ordered all necessary equipment and is prepared to administer the vaccine as soon as it is released. The polio foundation is furnishing nine million doses to the various states.

"We are told that commercial vaccine will be on the market for use by the family physician as early as the first of April," Dr. Shipp said.

"We are not dealing with a serum which has a profound but short life effect. We are dealing with a vaccine that has a lasting effect, but it takes about two months to obtain the maximum protection. First a vaccine has to be tested on a large number of animals such as mice, rats, guinea pigs, rabbits and other rodents. Various size doses must be given to see what reaction takes place, whether or not the animal was killed and what caused it. This procedure is followed with all new vaccines, whatever the kind. Then too, it has to be submitted to the U. S. Public Health Laboratory for further testing. The final approval must come from them. No vaccine is released for the public, not even from your own state laboratory, until samples are sent to this U. S. laboratory."

Joseph Whitehead, Charged With Murder, Waives Preliminary Hearing

Joseph Whitehead, of Picayune, arrested last week for the alleged shooting of M. L. Ackler, also from Picayune, in a Hancock County Honky-tonk, Saturday and is being held in jail awaiting the action of the grand jury.

Whitehead went before Judge B. D. Martin of Beat One to face a murder charge issued by Constable Harlan Dean also of Beat One.

Constable Dean said, "I charge him with murder following the instruction of District Attorney Boyce Holleman. He will make any proper adjustments in the grand jury room if they are necessary."

Whitehead surrendered last week to a number of Hancock County officials after he learned that he had killed a man while shooting 13 times into Alice's Midnight Club, which is located outside of Napoleon.

Whitehead was quoted as saying "I shot up the place because I was angry. Two men had broken the window of my car because I had them blocked in front of the place. After I took my wife home I came back, and drove past slow and shot at the place with my 22 automatic rifle."

During the shooting Whitehead was accompanied by his two sisters and Lamar Peters. These three have been released on $250 bonds as material witnesses for the state.

Whitehead stated he didn't know he had killed anyone but that when he learned he did he came back to Pearl River and gave himself up to the police.

Prior to this he had thrown part of his rifle into the West Pearl River, because I was scared," he said.

The rifle has not been recovered.

Civil Defense Air Aid Proves Success Here

The practice air raid held by the Hancock County civil defense group was very successful. Immediately after the siren blew, warning the population of the raid, the civil defense workers went into action.

At the schools the children had been drilled on what to do in case of an emergency of this sort. Along the highways the traffic was controlled by the State Highway patrol, the communications centers were guarded by members of the defense, evacuation transportation was set up to handle groups from New Orleans, Mobile or any other stricken area, the city was cleared for shelter and other means of precaution were taken by the Civil Defense here.

All of the members of the defense wore red arm bands to identify themselves to the public. This is the first test that the local public has been asked to participate in.

This red alert, under the direction of Ken Whitfield, local Civil Defense Director, was part of a nine state alert.

Hancock Teachers Hear Of College Credit Plan

The Hancock County Teachers Association, meeting for its annual banquet at the Reed Hotel this week, heard plans for a possible in service training system whereby graduate and undergraduate Hancock teachers may receive credit.

The speaker for the evening's event was Dr. J. R. Johnson, of Mississippi Southern College's Extension service. He spoke on the possibility of the in service training system. After this, a committee composed of the school superintendents in the county was appointed to investigate the plan.

County Superintendent Breland announced at the gathering that teachers pay checks for the remainder of the school year would be slightly higher due to the increases in the state appropriations.

Some 45 teachers and school officials attended.

KILN SEEKS STATE TITLE

The Kiln High Wildcats are in a position to make history this weekend as they vie for the State Basketball Championship in Decatur.

If they are successful in their first shot at the crown the Wildcats will become the first team in the Eighth District to capture the coveted title.

Kiln meets Thyrtira in the quarter finals of the state tournament. Because of lack of accuracy at the foul line Kiln had to be satisfied with third place in the South Mississippi Tournament last week.

The Hancock County cagers lost in the semi-finals to Johnston Station, a team that has been a thorn in their side throughout the season, by two points. Johnston Station held two previous victories over Kiln.

The Wildcats outscored their opponents from the field but missed the majority of their foul shots losing 50-48. In the last minute of play Kiln missed six foul shots and lost its chance to capture the top spot of the South B-BB basketball teams.

Kiln qualified for the state tournament after defeating Center Hill in the quarterfinals of the South playoffs, 60-57.

Then following their heart-breaking loss to Johnston Station the Wildcats bounced back strong against Decatur to grab the show position, defeating their opponents 60-58.

The Question
Do you think the new Waveland Water and Gas System will be a financial success?

The Answers
Mrs. Bea Georgi—Businesswoman, "I think it will be a financial success if they fix the streets and cooperate with the people more than they are doing. There have been at least 75 to 100 people who had to pay someone to pull them out of the holes dug in the streets. Sooner or later if this continues these people will get disgusted and leave Waveland."

Mrs. E. C. Samuel—housewife, "I definitely do think so if it is handled properly. It is bound to be a financial success because of the ever increasing growth in population and the increasing demand for water and natural gas."

Mrs. C. B. Mollere, real-estate agent, "Yes I think it will be a financial success because of the great number of houses being built in Waveland. This will bring many more customers for water and gas. At this time there are many who are waiting for the Town to be able to give them the water and gas service. The new customers are coming in fast. It will definitely be a big success."

"IN THE GOOD OLD SUMMER TIME"—Hey, it's not the summer time. But the weather was so warm that the beach looked so inviting that Marsha Blake and Carol Sue Banderet decided to get their swimming suits out of the moth balls and take the elements up on the invitation.

KENT SELLER

SELLER SIGNS CONTRACT TO PLAY FOR SOUTHERN

Kent Seller, the star end of the Bay High Tigers, has signed a one year contract with Mississippi Southern, the budding football power of the South.

In signing with the Southern, Seller became the first Bay St. Louis school boy to cast lots with a college this year.

Prior to placing his signature on the scholarship contract Kent fullback with such power that he cut the big fellow's eye.

In his next scrimmage Kent moved a 240 pound tackle like a dummy in practice.

This impressed Coach Ple Vann to such an extent that he told Seller, "I've seen enough. Go on in and I'll have a contract ready for you to sign."

Kent will be eligible to play on the varsity next year as a freshman. This holds true at Southern because the school is an independent college, not belonging to any conference.

The coaches at Southern, the team that upset the apple cart two years in a row when it defeated the big and strong Southeastern Conference member Alabama, told Seller that they want him to gain at least five pounds before the fall.

He is six feet one inch tall and weighs 185 pounds.

Kent stated that he shouldn't have any trouble doing that.

This was possible due mostly to the efforts and "sacrifices" of his two older brothers Lionel and Gunnison, who attend Mississippi Southern.

They gave up their desserts in the cafeteria to the "baby" boy of the family.

What does Kent have to say about receiving a scholarship to Southern? He stated, "that is the school I wanted to attend. I am very happy to receive a scholarship and I certainly hope I can do good."

MAURICE ARTIGUES

M. ARTIGUES, JR., UNDERGOES SURGERY ON INJURED KNEE

Maurice Artigues, Jr., the bulwark of the St. Stanislaus Dairy Bowl Champion football team this past season, has returned home from Mercy Hospital in New Orleans where he was operated on for a knee injury.

Several weeks ago Maurice twisted a previously injured knee and tore the cartilage for the second time.

Advised by the doctors that the only way he could play football again would be to submit to an operation, so he did.

Following the removal of the cartilage, the doctors reported that the nerve was not damaged and that Maurice should be as good as new in two months.

This will allow him to accept one of the college football scholarships he has been offered.

Artigues is a four year veteran of the Rockchaw team. He played both guard and center during that time, finishing his high school career at center and defensive linebacker.

His coaches have repeatedly

Sportweek

By GREGORY FAVRE

While the magazines and the newspapers around us tell the story of the five percent of the teen-agers today who have become hardened juvenile delinquents, Bay St. Louis can point with pride to another one of its sons.

Kent Seller, a senior at Bay High and one of the most promising athletes in this vicinity, has given us the opportunity to brag once again.

This past week Kent impressed the coaches at Mississippi Southern to such an extent that they signed him to a contract after seeing him in one workout.

Mississippi Southern is a growing college and is the potential football power of the South. It can choose very carefully the boys that it will employ in its gridiron ranks. The coaches do not have to take any leftovers.

Kent Seller will be an outstanding representative of our town and county. He is modest, of good average intelligence good looking, an all around athlete who practices hard to improve, a boy who listens with great interest to his coaches and his teachers, a boy of highest ideals and one whose politeness astounds his elders.

Yes, Kent Seller has all of these qualities and perhaps more.

That is why the citizens of this county can pat themselves on the back. They have been a part of the background of this boy and many more like him.

You will find Hancock County teen-agers shining in every field of life, not just the world of sports.

But it is in this phase of activities that this column is mainly interested.

So that is why we earnestly ask that the local population support these boys to the utmost of their possibilities.

You will get returns a hundred fold when these youths start making the headlines of the sports pages throughout the land.

Already one of our adopted sons, John Caruso, has been in the eye of football fans through his fine efforts at Tulane.

But our future looks even rosier. Kent Seller, Maurice Artigues, Charles Rick, a Texan who graduates from St. Stanislaus, James Schemmayer, a Louisiana boy who also receives his diploma from the local well known prep school and many others who only need a break to give them a boost along their way.

Yes, this is our answer to the skeptical who judge all teen-agers by the minority. Those who look upon all of the youths of today as a menace to the world.

We are able to say that the figures that are given so much unnecessary publicity are over emphasized.

As far as proof is concerned we can place boys like Kent in any cross examination that those bitter toward youth wish to present.

Eighth Grader At Bay High Works Mile In 5:30

Several potential members of the Bay High track have been reporting for some premature practice.

Under the direction of Coach Robert Ladner, there boys who include Charles Moran, Kent Seller, and Jeffrey Schultz have been working out daily.

Moran and Seller are lettermen from last year's squad while Schultz, an eighth grader is taking his first crack at the sport.

Even though Schultz is only 13 years old, he has excited Coach Ladner in his mile workouts.

In his initial try at this grueling distance, Schultz without any previous training was clocked in the mile at five and a half minutes.

Coach Ladner expects outstanding things from the boys this year and in his four years of high school eligibility.

Full scale practice has been delayed because of spring football at the local school.

The first inter school meet for the Tigers has been set for Apr. 1 at the St. Stanislaus stadium.

Bay High will compete against Stanislaus and Piquette for the honors in the tri-school meet.
